

OUR ISLAND CONTEMPORARIES

As we understand the verdict of the federal inspectors, the two Inter-Island deck passengers drowned in a shore-going boat at Lahaina ought to recognize that they are only the victims of the unavoidable percentage of fatal accidents.—Star-Bulletin.

Now that cotton is on the contraband list there's no reason why the modest shouldn't be a little more liberal in the matter of petticoat widths.—Star-Bulletin.

Since the announcement of its decision regarding the Lahaina accident, you could not convince the Inter-Island Navigation Company that the Public Utilities Commission is such an innocuous organization as some of us in the past have believed. The commission's suggestions seem to have a sting, even if the law gives it no power other than to make recommendations. Publicity supplies the whipcracker for the recommendations.—Hilo Tribune.

A Loss to the "Movies."

What a pity that second Lahaina "accident" was not caught by some lucky "movie" man! What a pity this fleeting accident in contemporaneous history was not indelibly impressed on the flying film, to be re-enacted before delighted audiences from Niihau to Kahoolawe and way points!

As it is, we have only the narratives of appreciative spectators at Lahaina and the good humored admissions of the participants themselves. The spectators saw the boat-load of federal inspectors and Inter-Island officials conveniently spilled in shallow water, but it appears that these spectators were too much beset by laughter to take more than passing note of the thousand and one contributing incidents to an occasion wonderfully adapted to the films. No one, for instance, can with certitude say whether Hiku, the redoubtable boat-steerer, was inspired by a sense of humor or by characteristic literalness when, in response to a request that he show the party "just how it happened before" he gave his oar a quick turn and flipped his passengers into the watery three-foot depths.

It is true we have the picturesque narrative of one of the federal inspectors, who tells with feeling how he lost everything from his pockets but a beloved pipe, and all of the party admit that the joke was on them. And the federal inspectors returned from their trip convinced that the first Lahaina accident—that tragic happening of last May—was unavoidable. And they deny the imputation that the second spill was prearranged. We are inclined to think that is correct, and that if anybody turned the trick it was Hiku—Hiku, who, says Chairman Forbes of the utilities commission, has been discharged by the Inter-Island, though the steamship company officials held him blameless for the first accident. Could it be that Hiku though he could "get away with" two spills?

Yet, even though Eddie Fernandez was not in the offing to catch the comedy of the second Lahaina accident, it will not soon be forgotten. Already it is being powerfully used to point a moral, if not to adorn a tale. It gives promise of figuring right along in the attempt of the Public Utilities Commission to make the Inter-Island obey certain "recommendations." The federal inspectors now hold the first accident unavoidable. And it is reasonable to suppose that in case of other accidents they will with like fortitude dare the dangers of the deep in similar first-hand investigations. Then the apparently irreparable loss to movie-land may be remedied. Of course, Hiku is no Charlie Chaplin, and the attempt to visualize Capt. Howe as Mary Pickford is an effort, but Inspector Heene—through the rescue of his pipe while breasting the sea—has qualified in the Annette Kellermann class. And if a repetition of these accidents should find a movie-man on the job, he could secure a seven-reel film of fabulous wealth, providing it is passed by the censors.—Star-Bulletin.

On the Other Islands

Another Site Selector.

According to a special dispatch to the Star-Bulletin this week, Byron R. Newton, assistant secretary of the treasury department, left Washington for Honolulu on Monday night for the specific purpose of making final selection of a site for the new million dollar federal building, which has been hanging fire for the past eight or nine years.

College Professor resigns.

Howard M. Dallou, professor of physics and mathematics at the College of Hawaii, has resigned on account of ill-health and will not return to Hawaii from a mainland trip on which he is now engaged.

Commercial Bodies Induce Cannery To Buy Fruit.

Through the efforts of the Japanese chamber of commerce, the Honolulu chamber of commerce, and the Japanese consul in Honolulu, the bulk of the pineapples raised by Japanese growers on Oahu have been purchased by the Libby, McNeill & Libby and the Hawaiian Pineapple companies. J. D. Dole, president of the latter company, refused to state what price was paid for the fruit, but stated that it was more than the growers had expected to receive. A. T. Longley, of the Territorial marketing division, states that a large amount of Japanese fruit rotted in the fields before the cannery could be interested in it.

Hawaii Well Guarded.

Dr. L. O. Howard, chief of the bureau of entomology, department of agriculture, who left on Wednesday after spending a week of investigation in connection with the work for suppression of the fruit fly and cotton boll worm, stated before leaving that the progress of the work is very satisfactory. He also declared that without exception, Hawaii is the best quarantined place in the world against insect pests. He paid a very high compliment to the efficiency of the local entomologists and officials.

Marketing Division Soon To Have New Home.

The Pacific Engineering Company was awarded by Charles R. Forbes, superintendent of public works, the contract to erect the new territorial marketing division building in Honolulu.

The bidders were as follows: Pacific Engineering Company, $10,120; H. B. Reade, $10,120; J. Bowler, $10,350; Honolulu Planning Mill, $10,999; Lord-Young Engineering Company, $12,000; and J. Walker, $17,425.

Maui Theaters

Three big five-reel features were shown at the Valley Isle Theatre this week: "Love Route, on Tuesday evening; "Should a Woman Divorce," on Wednesday evening; and "A Daughter of the People," on Thursday evening, all to good houses. Next week the big five reel features will be: "Caprices of Kitty," probably on Tuesday; "Beulah," on Wednesday; and Robert Warlick as "Alias Jimmy Valentine" on Friday evening. The Sixth Episode of Zudora or Twenty Million Dollar Mystery will be played this Saturday evening, and the 16th Episode of Exploits of Elaine next Monday night. Other big five reel photo plays expected the following week will be: "Gretna Green," and "Fairy and the Wolf."

Smith, Bad Check Artist, Confesses

Also Says He is A Deserter From Army and That His Right Name is Hixes—Denies Maui Jail Sentence.

Smith or Smith, self confessed passer of bad checks, is a deserter from Battery B of the United States Artillery, according to a letter which he has written Sheriff Sam Pua. He says that his right name is C. D. Hixes and that he deserted from the artillery while he was stationed in Honolulu.

Smith, Smith or Hixes, made his confession as the result of an examination which was made of his person last Saturday in order to try and identify him as the passer of a bogus check on Maui. He thought that the examination was made to identify him as an army deserter and he afterwards wrote a letter to the sheriff making the admission that he was wanted by military authorities.

Wireless advices of the man's confession have been sent to Honolulu, but no reply was received yesterday.

Pleading guilty to a charge of gross cheat, Fred L. Smith, alias J. C. Smith, accused of passing a forged check on the First Bank of Hilo for forty-five dollars drawn on a Maui bank and signed with the name of Hugh Howell, will not be sentenced until next Thursday morning.

The passing of sentence has been postponed by Judge W. S. Wise to allow the police department to check up Smith's or Smith's record. According to the statement of Attorney Sam L. Rolph, who appeared as prosecuting attorney for the bank, the prisoner has served a nine months sentence on Maui for a similar offense. The accused man denied this when questioned by Judge Wise. The magistrate instructed the police department to ascertain from Maui if this is a second offense of the check passer.

Smith, the name under which the prisoner was living when arrested at Kukuiahae, stated to the court that he is a married man with five children. Further questioning revealed the fact that the family of children was acquired by him when he was recently married at Waimea, where his wife lives.

The prisoner is a meek acting man who seemed almost timid when in court, and without the usual appearance one associates with criminals.—Hilo Tribune.
